Socialism in London.

From the London News, March 21,

The German Socialist newspaper, Freiheit, appeared on Saturday as usual, but with a red border printed round the front page, to celebrate either the anniversary of the Paris Commune on the 18th of March, 1871, or the assassination of the Emperor of Russia on Sunday week. The leading article of this remarkable journal is not a whit behind the Socialist speakers at a recent meeting in New York, and far before Mlle. Louise Michel, who chose to print La Revolution Sociale of Friday last on red paper. As a heading stands "At Last," and this is followed by a quotation from the poetical works of C. Beck, presumably extracted from a warning to autocrats, and to the following effect:

Sieze these, sieze those; and hold them fast;
But one will reach thee still at last.

The writer of the article cries "Triumph, Triumph! The word of the poet is fulfilled. One of the most horrible tyrants of Europe, whose destruction has long been sworn, and before whose withering and revengeful breath countless heroes and heroines of the Russian people sank into the grave or the prison—the Emperor of Russia is no more." There is not much mistake about the ring of this; and lest there should be, it is echoed by a curious account of the assassination of the Czar. "As the monster," continues the Socialist scribe, "was returning from one of the customary diversions provided for him by blind hordes of blood-and-iron-slaves, the death-doom, long since pronounced, reached and smote him." "Five times," shrieks Freiheit, "had it been vouchsafed to this Canaille to touch the boundary between Hither and Thither, and to chatter about the finger of God as having recently saved his accursed life, when the hand of the people shut his mouth forever." To the writer of this article the name of Russakoff is only to be "breathed with reverence," and the last moments of the dying Czar seem to have been passed in reflecting on a "life full of crimes." The terrible news, according to the same authority, "rang like a thunder-clap" in the princely castles wherein dwell guilt-laden ones, who have a thousand times over merited a like fate." The dwelling of the Emperor of Germany is specially designated as one of those in which "howling and gnashings of teeth" prevailed, and the Emperor is denounced as a Protestant Pope and soldier-"kaiser." The ruling classes—"the moral rascaldom" of all countries have also felt a terrible shock, for they see in the death of the Czar more than a "mere act of putting to death." It is "an attack full of promise upon authority as such," and "long-forfeited heads tremble from Constantinople to Washington." The "heroic deed" of assassinating the Czar is exalted to the skies, but the writer is not yet satisfied. Such "Brutus-like" actions are possible. Why, then, are they not performed more frequently? "Why," it is asked, "is so-called tyrannicide so rare?" "Could only one such crowned ragamuffin be destroyed per month there would be slight desire in the future to play at monarchy."

Northwestern Wheat Crop.

Reports from the Northwest generaly indicate that winter wheat crops have suffered severely through exceptionally rigorous weather. In Minnesota the sowing of spring wheat is expected to begin about the middle of this month, but it may be delayed by unfavorable circumstances. Information from other spring wheat States is meagre. European advices indicate a fair prospect of good crops, which will materially tend to affect the export demand upon the United States. In England and Scotland, the severe and threatening weather has been followed by conditions very favorable to seeding, and the state of the growing crops appears to be, as a rule, satisfactory. In France the weather is favorable and the condition of the crops exceptionally good. From Germany, the accounts so far have been meagre, but it may be said that, in that country, no distinctly unfavorable conditions have yet been developed. In Holland, the weather is favorable, and the crop prospect reasonably promising.

A burglar entered a house in which a mother was sitting up with a sick child. "Sir," she said to him in a whisper, as soon as she could compose herself to speak, "there is nothing of value in the house except that child's life, at least to me, but you may find otherwise. Here, take my keys, search everywhere; take what you want, but speedily and without noise, I implore you." She handed him the keys, placed her finger on her lip and pointed to the door. The burglar moved quietly away, then turned and said in a low voice: "Is he very sick?" "His life hangs on the continuance of this sleep." "Then he'll recover for all the noise I'll make," the robber answered, laying down the keys and noiselessly taking his departure, but absolutely nothing else.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

It is only a short time since the tax-payers of this school district were called upon to supply by special tax, a deficiency in the school fund in this district. The school law forbids the contracting of debt on the part of School Trustees, and there was need of funds in order that the schools might be kept open. The tax-payers by a large majority decided that the schools should remain open, and the Trustees have only to carry that decision into effect. Trustee McFarlin is in favor of meeting the public wish, and Trustee Bowen desires the schools closed. It would be in every way desirable that there might be a third member whose business would allow him to decide such differences, but no advantage will be gained through Mr. Kinkead's resignation if by that means the popular wish were defeated. The means adopted to secure Mr. Kinkead's resignation were certainly improper and not for the interests of the district. It is to be hoped that a meeting of the full Board will soon decide the disputed question.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The S. F. Stock Exchange overheard this: "He had put out a few shorts Sierra Nevada, and as he leant against the portals of the Exchange building this morning he murmured softly to himself:"

Hear the wheezing of the shorts,
Foolish shorts:
What a world of trouble now
Their angry frown imports;
How they swear, swear, swear;
How they rip and how they tear;
With a very downcast seeming,
Objurating and blaspheming,
At this teasing and this squeezing
Of the shorts, shorts, shorts.

We will comment in rhyme when the boom is settled.

Letters of incorporation have been filed of a religious society to be known as the Los Angeles Holiness Band. Among the incorporators is a real estate agent who says he has not committed a sin for thirty years. The members of the organization belong to a new sect known as Perfectionists, who profess sanctification, or incapacity to sin. There has been a small sect of that kind in every community during all the centuries, but they have never attempted an organization before.

"Puck" caricatures the row between Conkling and the Administration most strikingly. Conkling is represented as a mad bull trying to butt a flying locomotive off the track. President Garfield, dressed as an engineer, stands in easy reach of the throttle valve, displaying a card on which is inscribed the words: "To Independenceville direct—limited express." Conkling seems to be in imminent danger of getting smashed if he does not get out of the way.

"Many a father," says an exchange, "makes a grave mistake in not getting acquainted with his sons." Yes, to be sure, but then, well, let it pass.

Of Mrs. Mardis, who a short time ago left Elko on horseback for Island Mountain, a correspondent of the Independent from that place says: "After remaining at the camp thirty-six hours Mrs. Mardis struck out for the mining district by that name, across the mountain north of the Bruneau, as Mr. Penrod says, 'afoot and alone,' and without snow-shoes. Owing to the soft, deep snow, her trip could not be continued on horseback, but bound to reach her destination the foolish woman insisted on committing the folly mentioned. There is but one place she can cross the Bruneau, and that stream is now a mountain torrent. If she succeeds in reaching the camp, it will be more than might reasonably be expected."

One of the completest little social events occurred near Fort Wingate Texas, the other day. A party of four gamblers entered a saloon, and business being a little dull that morning the proprietor joined them in a friendly game. In the difficulty that ensued no partiality was shown whatever, all five of them being killed. It was most decidedly the most recherche affair of the season. The toilets were gray ribbed undershirts, with overtrain of blue woolen—old iron jewelry.

Some ideas of the preparations being made by the Texas Company, Galeyville, A. T., for smelting its ores, can be formed when it is known that 20,000 bushels of coal are already at the works. The contracts let amount to some 150,000 bushels.

Newspapers in Eastern Arizona are increasing in number. The Enterprise, a weekly is published at Florence by George B. Taylor, formerly of California. Pinal has now two papers, the Drill and the Enterprise, and Gila has two, the Chronicle and the Silver Belt.

Says the Helena, Montana, Herald: We have a section of a small white pine tree, which is six inches in diameter. In the center is embedded the cone of the tree in a perfect state of preservation. It is three-fourths of an inch in diameter and an inch and a half in length.

Mrs. L. S. Iliff, of Denver, is the owner of the largest cattle range in the State of Colorado. Its territory extends from Greeley to Julesburg, embracing a belt of country about 100 miles wide, with a herd constantly numbering about 25,000 head of cattle. The sales of the past three years have been nearly $1,000,000. Half an interest in the business was recently sold.

The Times-Review has seen an Indian with the skin of a "man-eater," an animal which, although not numerous in this vicinity, is sometimes found in the mountains north of here. Its skin is of a medium Brown color, and the fur finer considerably than that of the coyote. Its head and claws are shaped like a bears, and its general appearance and actions indicate that it is a smaller species of genus Ursus. Its ordinary weight is about fifty or sixty pounds.

The White Pine News says. Last Sunday night a fire broke out in Mr. Gibb's residence at Spruce Mountain, and the building with its contents was consumed. The fire also communicated to a building owned by J. F. Ardout of this place, and with its entire contents, consisting of furniture, miners' tools, bakers' implements, etc., was destroyed. Mr. Ardout's loss is $2,000. A building belonging to Mr. Scherff was likewise burned. The entire loss will amount to about $7,000.

Wrinkled Faces.

It is a painful sight to see young ladies in their teens with wrinkled and prematurely old faces; nevertheless it is quite common, and to any one who observes the tendency of the times the reason is very apparent. Owing to flaming advertisements and bogus certificates, in which are used the names of eminent physicians and chemists, the unsuspecting and credulous have been induced to use some of the so-called liquid beautifiers, all of which are known be positively injurious, and if used for any length of time will destroy the complexion, so that it will be next to impossible to restore it. Mothers should be very careful to see that their daughters do not use these preparations, but ask for and obtain Slaven's Harmless Yosemite Face Powder, the only harmless beautifier. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

I will sell cheap for cash or installments the fine lots lying between Bishop Whitaker's Seminary and Mount Hope Nurseries Reno, Nevada. These are the finest building lots in the State. STEPHEN CONNER.

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—total of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit.

Affairs at Lewis After the War.

J. W. Clemo arrived in Winnemucca recently from Lewis, where he has been running a tunnel on contract for the Eagle Company. He says he had six men at work on the tunnel and was paying them $4 per day, the wages established for underground work by the Miners' Union. He paid the men in his employ $4 per day before the Union was organized, and since then. Those men are members of the Union, but Mr. Clemo is not, although he applied for membership but was not accepted. A week ago a committee of three, purporting to have been appointed by the Miners' Union, called upon Mr. Clemo and forbid him working on his contract. Mr. Clemo, who took a contract to run 500 feet of tunnel, over 100 feet of which has been completed, has had to quit work through fear of personal violence, and is now here with his family. He also says his son, a youth of 19 years, who was assisting him, has been forbidden to work in the tunnel or in the mines. As they will not let him work without being a member of the Union, and refuse him membership when he applies, Mr. Clemo, has, of course, come to the conclusion that he is not wanted in Lewis, and will have to throw up his contract unless the law protects him. There are other contractors, viz.: Greg Olsen and John Vincent, who have been ordered to quit. If these are the facts, it looks like a high-handed outrage, and one which the Miners' Union, or any other organization which claims to be respectable, should not countenance. Mr. Clemo is an experienced miner, as he has been engaged in the business in Cornwall since he was able to swing a pick. He worked in the iron mines of New Jersey ten years, and in several mines in this county, since he came to Nevada in 1874, so it cannot be said that he is not entitled to membership in the Union because of his not being a miner.

INSURANCE! INSURANCE!!

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC IS called to the following notices from the April number of the "Coast Review," the recognized authority on insurance on this coast, of the Insurance Companies represented by the Agency of Jacobs & Easton, and for which

W. N. Knox is Agent for Reno:

THE TRADERS'.

The Traders' Insurance Company is a conservative, well-managed company. The assets, of nearly one million dollars, consist of the very best securities, being principally United States bonds. The original capital of $500,000, in United States bonds, has never been touched since the organization of the company. The losses paid to date aggregate $1,700,000, and the surplus to policy holders is $724,000.

THE GLENS FALLS.

The Glens Falls Insurance Co., better known as the "Old and Tried," has had a remarkable record of prosperity. Its assets go beyond a million dollars, and the surplus $729,344.33. This company does business under the Safety Fund law of New York, and shows the largest book value of stock of any fire insurance company of the United States.

BUFFALO-GERMAN.

The Buffalo-German Insurance Company also does its business under the Safety Fund law of New York, which makes its policies doubly secure. This company has assets amounting to $823,432.73, and a surplus to policy holders of $644,071.53. The stock of the company has a book value of $422.04 for every hundred dollars, which brings the Buffalo-German fourth on the list of all American companies.

THE UNION.

The Union Insurance Company of Philadelphia, was incorporated in 1804, and since then has paid out in losses more than $10,000,000. The assets of the company are about $900,000, with a surplus to policy holders of $600,000. This company has lately moved into their new and elegant building, the present large quarters being necessary for the transaction of their increased business.

THE TRADESMENS'.

The Tradesmens' Insurance Company of New York City, points to an honorable and successful record of nearly a quarter of a century, suffering largely in the Chicago conflagration, and paying on the great Boston fire alone more than the amount of its entire capital, without calling upon its stockholders for one dollar, and to-day is stronger than ever.

THE ROCHESTER GERMAN.

The Rochester German Insurance Company is a well managed institution, writing small lines and making haste slowly. It has assets of nearly a half million dollars, and a handsome surplus beyond its capital. Since its organization it has made steady progress, adding yearly to its assets, as well as to its surplus.

THE SHOE AND LEATHER.

The Shoe and Leather Insurance Company is one of Boston's best companies. The assets of the company, January 1st, 1881, amounted to $859,989.74, and the surplus to policy holders $587,249.54. Always prompt and honorable in paying off losses, this company has earned an enviable reputation.

THE ORIENT.

The Orient Insurance Co., of Hartford, is well known to the insuring public, having done business on this coast some years ago. The company withdrew from here for some reason or other, and has returned now, intending to stay. Its assets are $853,581.07, and the surplus $682,-611.31. apl2

A Life Preserver.

An exchange says that Milton Benham, a member of General Marlette's surveying party, who was recently a compositor on the Carson Tribune, and formerly compositor on the GAZETTE, saved three men from drowning at Lake Bigler last week. There can be no doubt that Milton did his work well but these are all the particulars at hand.

Sure Thing This Time.

One week from next Sunday or Monday the overland east will leave San Francisco at or about 3 o'clock P. M. and Sacramento at 7.30 P. M., arriving at Reno in time for breakfast. The lightning will run between Alta and the Valley to accomodate local travel. This is said to be a sure thing this time.

Baby Show.

The editor of the Carson Appeal recently became part owner in a baby, and he has been swelling about ever since that time admiring himself. The latest move is the organization of a bench show in that city with babies substituted for dogs. The Carson infant will be stuffed and padded now for the parade. One Reno baby, with its diet of red cow's milk, would get away with the whole Carson outfit.

SCHOOL OR NO SCHOOL.

School District No. 10 and the War Among the Trustees--Bowen's Peculiar Methods.

It has been known for some days that matters have not been entirely harmonious among the Trustees of Reno school district. Owing to the necessary absence of Mr. Kinkead the Board has been evenly divided, and it seems as though the Bowen family were anxious to educate the young idea according to the idea of Bowen as to time and manner. It will be remembered that being short of funds the Trustees, as required by law, called an election to vote on the question of a special tax. The tax was voted by a very large majority, the Bowen family in the negative. It would appear that the argument should have been considered settled by the popular vote, but not so, the Bowen voting has been continued, and strange methods have been employed in order to swell a hapless minority into a bare majority. Finding that he could not hope to out vote J. L. McFarlin, Chairman of the Board, and thus close the schools, Mr. D. D. Bowen wrote the following letter to Mr. Jas. H. Kinkead, then at Pyramid. It will be noticed that Mr. Bowen signs himself as "Clerk Board Trustees of School District No. 10," and makes a plentiful use of the editorial "we:"

RENO, April 9th, 1881.

Mr. James H. Kinkead—Dear Sir: Recognizing the fact that you are Considerably pressed with your own business, and being away most of the time from the District too, and Cannot attend to the duties of School Trustee, and as the variety of business with which we have to Contend, requiring the attention and Sanction of a full Board, we herewith respectfully ask you, if you will tender your resignation, in order that we may have Some one else, who Can attend, appointed in your Stead,

If you know of Some one whom you desire to recommend as worthy to fill the place, you will please mention as we want Some man who Can attend to the office

Awaiting your Immediate answer we remain Respectfully &c.

D. D. BOWEN
Clerk Board Trustees of School District No. 10.

The use of the word "we" in question suggests that there may be more than one of Mr. Bowen, in which case he could easily outvote McFarlin, and the dead-lock would be at an end. This is probably a mistake, however, as the desire expressed for an "immediate answer" seems to indicate a fear that McFarlin might wish to go into executive session.

Mr. Kinkead thought, naturally enough, that the Board wanted his room instead of his company, and promptly forwarded his resignation to the Board. This was the first intimation which had been vouchsafed Chairman McFarlin, and he as promptly conveyed to Kinkead a contradiction of Mr. Bowen's letter. The Bowenian idea had worked well thus far and was not yet completed. As soon as Mr. Kinkead's resignation had been received by Bowen senior, Bowen junior, as Superintendent of Public Schools, issued to Henry Rhue the following document:

APPOINTMENT OF SCHOOL TRUSTEE

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the School Law of the State of Nevada, I hereby appoint Henry Rhue a Trustee of Reno School District No. Ten, in the County of Washoe, said office to be held until the first Monday in January succeeding the next general election.

M. D. BOWEN,
Superintendent Public Schools Washoe County.

And the end was not yet. On the reverse side is a blank form for the "Oath of Office of Trustee of Public Schools." No sooner had the younger Bowen issued the appointment printed above than Bowen the elder whips over the document and swears the appointee into office. The verification reads:

Sworn and subscribed to before me, a Trustee of School District No. 10, of the County of Washoe and State of Nevada, this 12th day of April, Anno Domini 1881. D. D. BOWEN.

The 12th day of April was eventful. It saw the appointment of Mr. Rhue, the verification of his oath and his induction into office. It also, as will be seen, dated the following letter, which explains itself:

PYRAMID, Nev., April 12, 1881.

Board of Trustees of Reno School Dist. No. 10—Sirs: I received from the Clerk of your Board what purported to be a request from you of my resignation as a member of said Board. I now learn that no action has been taken by the Board—that the request does not emanate from the Board. I therefore recall my resignation.

Yours, etc.,
JAS. H. KINKEAD.

Mr. McFarlin declares that he has not been consulted in regard to any of the Bowen tactics, and that he declines respectfully to have the dead lock broken in any such fashion. The people voted to keep the schools open and he believes that he should obey their wishes. Mr. Rhue says that he cares nothing about the matter either way, and so the matter stands. There has been a considerable display of statesmanship in the matter of this appointment, and for the good of the schools it might as well cease.

The following note was received from M. D. Bowen, junior, to-day:

RENO, April 12, 1881.

Ed. Gazette:—Please state in your paper that I have appointed Henry Rube as one of the Trustees of Reno School District No. 10, in place of Jas. H. Kinkead, who has resigned.

Respectfully, M. D. BOWEN.

Another Mine.

The discovery of a quartz ledge is announced from the vicinity of Deep Wells, on the Pyramid road. The new bonanza is between Carroll's and the old Blasdell station. The croppings are said to give very good assays, and the district was known and partially located some years ago. The ore contains considerable gold. While talking about mines we might as well give a rude method of testing ore for the benefit of prospectors: Pulverize the rock in question; take one part of that and two parts of gunpowder—that from a cartridge will answer—add sufficient water to make a thick dough; knead and make in pyramid shape; let it dry in the sun or near the fire; when dry set it on a flat stone and apply a live coal to the summit of the cone. When combustion has ceased, if mineral was contained in the ore you will find a button by examining the ash.

Richmond vs. Albion.

The important mining suit above named begins in Eureka next week. Several days ago Judge Rives, of the Eureka District Court, requested Judge Rising to sit in his stead during the trial of this case. Judge Rising declined doing so, however, because of the great inconvenience to which the trip would subject him, and the difficulty of arranging his own business so that he could get away. On Monday, however, another urgent request was received from Eureka, signed by Judge Rives and all the attorneys in the case. Judge Rising therefore finally assented, and passed through Reno last evening on his way to the Base Range. Judge Rising has earned and enjoys an enviavble reputation on the bench.

A Little Road Stop a Big One.

The Nevada county narrow gauge railroad has put in a crossing on the Central Pacific track at Colfax so as to get over to the freight house. The Central Pacific trains are compelled by law to come to a full stop before reaching the crossings of other roads. This is the only place on the whole line between San Francisco and Ogden where the law applies. There are a couple of crossings between Sacramento and Oakland, but the other tracks cross overhead on bridges. The Union Pacific has no crossings, and the ones at Ogden and Colfax are the only ones on the whole route.

Cutting Affray.

When H. L. W. Knox was grading for the N. & O. he found that the Orr water ditch would run over the road bed, and it was necessary to make a new ditch, which was done. The water was conducted by the side of the road bed for 600 feet and then run off under the grade. Owing to the cessation of work the new ditch was never used. Last night some one from Pizen Switch, for reasons best known to himself, cut the old ditch and diverted the waters. The damage would have been considerable but for Mr. Knox's watchful attention.

Court Notes.

The District Court has been occupied to-day with the case of Alvaro Evans vs. Orr Water Ditch Co., before a jury.

In the Justice Court the case of W. A. Walker, Sheriff, vs. Washoe county came up on demurrer, and was ably argued by Major Mann, Sheriff Walker and District Attorney Rankin.

A Mild Winter.

A year ago now there were twenty feet of snow at the Summit and as far down as Cisco. Now there is not five feet on a level anywhere, and on the south side the hills are bare. This will be very bad for the placer mines.

Good Friday.

To-morrow will be good Friday and the usual services will be held in the Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock A. M., Rev. W. R. Jenvey officiating.

LUMBERING IN THE TRUCKEE

The way Boards are Made on an Extensive Scale.

The Pacific Lumber and Wood Company's mill started up last Monday for the summer's run. It is the strongest and best mill on the Truckee river country. The logs are cut on the head waters of Juniper Creek, and carried to the edge of the canon of the Truckee on a fine narrow-gauge railroad. Then are sent down the vast wall of the canon in a log schute 1600 feet in length. The grouve is kept greased and the grade is so steep that the logs go down with a magnificent speed, bounding and leaping like cannon balls on ice. When they strike the water the spray shoots into the air many feet and falls back with a loud splash. The logs drive into the river, and strike an iron framework at the bottom which prevents their filling up with gravel and injuring the saws. From the dam to the saw carriage the transfer is made on a truck, running on an incline tramway extending out on the bed of the river. The truck is run out far enough to let the log float over it and as it is drawn up the log goes with it. The mill is a handsome frame building, with dressed rustic sides, painted shingle roof, and plenty of glass windows. The machinery is of the most effective designs and the power abundant. The business head of this great institution is Nelson Martin, who is developing the ideas of the late Fred Burkhalter to an extent that would even astonish his busy brain. The system includes an immense store in Truckee which handles all sorts of family supplies as well as hardware, hay and grain. If the future development equals that of the past year or two Mrs. Burkhalter will be one of the powerful merchants of the coast.

Stocks and Assessments.

The securities are still healthy and Sierra Nevada stockholders ought to be happy. Acting Superintendent Patton says there has been no strike and the S. F. Post says there has. Senator Fair is reported to be on his way home, and is expected on Saturday next. It is said that the Senator returns at J. C. Flood's earnest request. L. P. Drexler is reported to have unloaded on Saturday, and the Comstockers are very confident. The reader may take his choice of rumors, and for fear of becoming too sanguine he should read the appended list of assessments and the delinquent dates:

Pacific Brewery.

The new beer manufactory which has been in process of construction for several days will be quite an addition to Reno. The building will be of wood, 25 feet by 70, and the cellar which is already completed is 11 feet in the clear. Three large windows on each side will afford proper ventilation, and the solid stone walls rise four feet above the ground. The cellar is inclined at an angle so as to render a frequent drenching very easy, and every provision will be made to secure comfort and cleanliness for the new beer. George Becker, the proprietor and builder, has engaged a first-class brewer, Mr. August Ruhstaller, and the work of building and arranging will now go forward under his supervision. It is expected that the building will be completed in about three weeks, and the first lot of beer will be offered to market about June 1st. If good water and pluck makes good beer, George Becker will succeed.

Police Court.

H. C. Fairchild, arrested on Sunday last on suspicion of robbing Rev. C. McKelvey, was discharged from custody yesterday afternoon, there not being sufficient evidence to warrant a commitment.

The Hair of Prominent Men.

In this feature, writes the New York correspondent of the Rochester Democrat, N. P. Willis and Horace Greeley were entirely dissimilar. Willis had long and beautiful ringlets, of which he was very proud, while, as is well known, Greeley became bald early in life, the base of the head being merely fringed with gold. We may note that many of our best writers or public men were in a similar condition. Washington Irving wore a wig half his lifetime. William Lloyd Garrison was well known for his smooth pate. Wendell Phillips has only a few scattering silver locks. Ralph Waldo Emerson keeps his head cropped closely. Such, also, was the practice of the late Charles Sumner. It may be urged against long haired men that not only Willis (who was a rake) was thus adorned, but also the magnates of the Brooklyn scandal (Beecher and Tilton) are also of the long-haired class. Theodore Parker on the other hand, was bald, and so was John Quincy Adams. The late Chief Justice Chase was much in the same condition. Speaking of fashion it might be said that the ancient Greeks wore hair long, while the Egyptians cut it off, and wore light wigs. In France at one time short hair was the style, and in the reign of Louis Quatorze was worn of prodigious length, and was done up in a lofty manner. The hair fashion of this city, at present, deserves more space than can just now be afforded, notwithstanding the importance of the theme.

Gambling Hells Afloat.

From the St. Louis Republican.

The gamblers are already planning to circumvent the law just adopted by the Missouri Legislature making gambling a felony. The law, they say, does not reach to the middle of the river. It has been suggested that a pool be made up and a steamer chartered for short trips up and down the river, to leave every night and return by morning. As soon as the boat would get away from the levee faro, keno, and roulette tables would be brought out, and the night spent in gambling. Passengers would be charged, say, $1, a part of which would be returned in checks that would be good at the gambling tables. There would be a bar and restaurant aboard, and everything to make things comfortable. Some of the biggest gamblers in town have been talking about the matter. Something will be done, and just now this seems to be the only thing to do. If one of these boats should be rigged up it may give a start to river gambling again. At present all the regular boats on the river have very strict rules against gambling; but if it were profitable boats could be easily found to go into the business.

The Compensations of Life.

President Garfield is quoted by the Cleveland Leader as saying that for twenty years after her husband died his mother scarcely ever had the comforts, much less the luxuries of life.

"And now" added the President "it has been my study to promote her happiness and comfort in every way possible in order to make up for the privation she suffered during my boyhood. She has the best room in my house, and there is nothing she wants but what she always has. When I go to Mentor she always accompanies me. When I return to Washington she always comes back with me. Whenever she wishes to go to New Hamshire to visit her relatives she goes, and I always go with her. In that manner I am trying to make up to her what she was deprived of during the days of sore poverty."

Well Married.

From the Barnesville Gazette.

There is a lady living in this county who has had five husbands. She lives on the old Hightower Trail, and married four widowers in succession. The remarkable coincidence connected with this good lady's matrimonial ventures is that all her husbands lived on the same road and just one mile and a half from each other. The first widower lived one and a half miles from the lady, who was a widow; the second, third and fourth lived about the same distance from each other, so she in turn, had charge of each of the residences, and is now living happily with her fifth husband within seven miles of her original home.

The city of Boston, whatever may have been its adverse fortune, still remains extremely wealthy, as a list of its rich men and women shows. Her real estate is valued at $437,230,600. The personal property is estimated at $201,835,600. There is a total increase of valuation over that of 1879 of $25,766,500. It is estimated that there is a large amount of property which never comes under the observation of the assessors, or is exempt from taxation, or paying a State tax. There are not many millionaires, not as many as there are in San Francisco, but there are a great many private fortunes of from $500,000 to $800,000. About $9,000,000 is raised by taxation. The rate is $15 20 per $1,000.

Profit, $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—total of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit.
